Father Darkleaf

BY CALVIN ROBINSON

If you forgot and left a pumpkin uncovered Sunday night, then you awoke Monday to find "The frost is on the pumpkin." Also on windshields. At 7 A.M. my porch thermometer read an even 32. But the Sun warmed things up and on a scale of one to ten, Monday turned out nine and seven-eighths. Leaves are rather slow changing color and falling. In my yard only a few maple leaves have let go. Leaf raking is one of my lesser past times, anyway.

Every week is "special." This is National School Lunch Week. Some 25 million school lunches are served in U. S. schools on the average school day, and some favor breakfasts too. Saturday is International Credit Union Day. A friend of mine once proclaimed Oct. 28 as National Do A Good Deed Day. And I think this week is National Beauty Salon Week. Years ago a Texas newspaper editor announced a "Cuss the Editor Week.' First letter he got was to protest that a week was not long enough, give them at least a month. If there are any vacant special days, we might have a toadstool collection day, a convention of left-handed birdwatchers, an annual deck scrubbing for the Confederate Navy of the Upper Appomattox River, or even a special day to discuss Whatever Happened to The New York Yankees.

The Seventh Annual Appomattox Railroad Festival is now history and seven was a lucky number. Soon planning will be under way for No. Eight.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Simpson, Highway 635, Appomattox, recently went to Texas and on returning brought me copies of fine newspapers from Port Arthur, Beaumont, New Orleans, etc. Thanks.

• • •

Also 4-H Club Week. Nationally there are over five million 4-H'ers and a verse of No. 88 for the members, leaders and programs.

• • •

Last week I wrote about the picnic honoring players on the Appomattox Green Sox team of the old Skyline League. I made an error and left off the name of Shearer Robertson as a member of the team. Shearer was a catcher and a good one. Had a nice telephone conversation with John Caldwell, team sponsor and manager. I agree with John that the pro baseball season is too long and should end by mid September. And I think the pro players attempt too many one-handed catches. Were I an outfielder I would use two hands and a clothes basket. But then were I a football player I'd want to be in an armored tank.

• • •

My alma mater, Univ. of Richmond, lost to Duke Saturday and is winless as of now for this season. Slippery Rock lost, 13 to 8 to Ashland Saturday. A game between Richmond and Slippery Rock would be a hit.

• • •

From my front door I can see some lovely chrysanthemums in bloom. Yellow. And I simply must shake off a bout with arthritis and push the lawnmower.

Council Proposes Town Charter Changes

At its Monday night meeting, the Appomattox Town Council approved a resolution that the General Assembly of Virginia, in its regular 1980 session, be requested and petitioned to amend the Charter of the Town of Appomattox, Virginia in accordance with the Code of Virginia as amended and consistent with current Virginia law under Section 15.1 of the Code of Virginia of 1950, as amended and that a Bill be prepared and introduced by Delegate Claude Anderson, duly elected Representative in the General Assembly, of the Town of Appomattox to carry out this resolution of the said Town Council.

In accordance with the Code of Virginia, the Town wishes to notify the citizens and all interested parties of a Public Hearing on the proposed Charter changes and amendments to the existing Town Charter. The Public Hearing has been set for Tuesday, October 30, 1979, at 7:30 p.m. at the Appomattox Town Office.

Interested citizens are urged to attend this hearing so that their comments may be considered.

If you have questions, you may contact W. R. Britton, Jr., Appomattox Town Manger.

Council adopted the Ordinance Monday night to borrow $800,000.00 by the issuance of Revenue Bonds for the proposed Regional Waste Water Facility for the Town of Appomattox.

The Property Committee reported to Council that the Virginia Recreation Commission has 50 % grants available for Outdoor Recreation facilities and the Town of Appomattox agreed to sponsor any local civic organization that wishes to match the 50% for an Outdoor Recreation facility.

Council also agreed to consider the possibility of turning over the Town Ball Park to a local civic organization with certain stipulations concerning the use of said ball park.

•

Miss Patsy Butler came before council to express appreciation on behalf of the Junior Woman's Club for the Town's participation in the successful 1979 RailRoad Festival.

•

W. R. Britton, Jr., Town Manager, reported to council that the use of well Site No. 8 has been terminated because of its inability to produce. Council agreed to negotiate for the purchase of an additional well site.

•

In other business, council approved the paving of Lee-Grant Avenue from Church Street to Court Street and they authorized Britton to look into the drainage problem south of the Railroad on Church Street.

Local Men Train For Sight-Saving Service

Dr. Clyde G. O'Brien and R. Doanld Robinson were among a group of twenty who have successfully completed the course of studies in the tenth post-mortem eye enucleation course presented by the Medical College of Virginia, Virginia Commonwealth University.

Those who successfully complete the course are qualified under Virginia law to perform post-mortem eye enucleations for the purpose of providing human eye tissue for corneal transplatation. Certification of the qualified individuals is provided by the Medical College of Virginia.

The courses are sponsored by Old Dominion Eye Bank, an organization supported by the Lions Clubs of Virginia. The eye bank is a receiving and distribution center for human eye tissue, donated on death by Virginians who had pledged this gift to the eye bank for sight-restoring corneal transplant surgery.

In the 1972 session of the Virginia legislature, the Virginia Uniform Anatomical Gift Act was amended to authorize post-mortem eye enucleations to be performed by morticians and ophthalmic medical technicians who have completed qualifying courses of instruction specified by law. Morticians thus are able to perform an important added service to their communities, as well as to the blind or near-blind individuals who will be the recipients of the transplanted eye tissue.

23 States Represented At 7th Appomattox Railroad Festival

In going over the guest book following the 7th Annual Appomattox Railroad Festival, Mrs. Dot Davidson noted that 23 states were represented by guests at this year's festival– more than any other year. The guest who traveled the longest distance to attend the festivities came from Weatherford, Texas.

Among those who took the time to register at the information book, records show that 30 cities were represented and 31 communities.

Who knows what next year will bring!

Football Contest Winners Named

Winners in the weekly football contest sponsored by area businesses have been announced by the TIMES-VIRGINIAN for last week's contest.

With a possible 23 games to predict, the Gretna - Nelson game ended in a tie and therefore only 22 games are being counted for this contest.

Out of a possible 22 games to predict, seven persons picked 17 of the 22 correctly. They were David Bohannon, Dale L. Weakley, Jimmie Womack, Carlton Guill, Doug Marshall, Benny Beasley, Sr., and Laura B. Coflin, Benny Beasley, Sr. picked Brookville to beat Appomattox in the tie-breaker so he lost out. Laura B. Coflin of Pamplin failed to enter scores in the tie-breaker so she lost out.

With a twenty point difference in the 34 to 14 win by the Raiders over Brookville, Dale L. Weakley of Route 1, Spout Spring predicted Appomatox to win by 14 points and is the 1st place winner in the contest. Jimmie Womack of Evergreen and Doug Marshall both picked a 6 point win for Appomattox so going to the second tie-breaker for a winner, Jimmie Womack predicted a 25 point win for Alabama over Florida. The actual score was Alabama 40 - Florida 0, so Jimmie Womack is second place winner as Doug Marshall only gave Alabama a 15 point advantage.

Dale L. Weakley will receive a check from the TIMES-VIRGINIAN in the amount of $10.00 as first place prize and Jimmie Womack will receive a check in the amount of $5.00 as second place prize.

Be sure you enter the football contest next week and get your entries into this newspaper early...you may just be the next winner.

Supervisors Withhold Decision On Plans For New Jail

At the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors meeting on Friday, a State Board of Corrections official commented that the proposed new jail for Appomattox County would be the smallest in the state of Virginia. Board Chairman, Dr. S. R. Lawson was quick to make it clear that he was definitely much more concerned with quality than quantity.

"We had rather be the smallest than the worst," remarked Lawson during the architects' presentation of the drawing showing the replacement facility.

The present Appomattox County jail, a two-story brick structure without even a fire escape, is 84 years old and was closed on Sept. 12 by the Corrections Board on the recommendation of the State Fire Marshal.

Since that time Appomattox County Sheriff Gene Richardson and architect Hal. C. Craddock of the Lynchburg firm of Garland M. Gay have been working with E. L. Paderick and other Board of Corrections officials to come up with the proposal which complies with the state's minimum jail requirements.

In commenting on the proposed structure, Paderick said, "It is the most economical way of building a jail but yet it's adequate and meets the standards." The plans call for an administrative wing and a security section which could house 13 prisoners.

Without a possible basement, the architects' estimated cost, based on market prices projected to March 1, 1980 was $444,375.

Supervisor Otha Martin Jr. voiced his objection to the cost which includes new requirements for indoor recreation areas and other accoutrements imposed by the Board of Corrections.

"We're letting 1 percent of the population rule the other 99," Martin added, saying he thought nothing was wrong with the present facility.

Paderick pointed out that the county could be libel for

Miss Nadine Faye Bugg

Miss Appomattox - 1980

Lovely Miss Nadine Faye Bugg, the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bugg was crowned "Miss Appomattox - 1980" Saturday night at the Appomattox County High School auditorium climaxing many, many weeks of preparation for the pageant.

Nadine is a 1979 graduate of Appomattox County High School and is presently employed at the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park. She plans to attend Phillips Business College in Lynchburg and study to become a medical secretary.

The five-foot six inch, blue-eyed, sandy-blond performed a baton routine to her own taped piano music in the talent competition. Her poise and charm were tested when the tape failed to play for her routine, however, she came on later to perform to a rousing round of applause. After very little sleep, Nadine could be seen in downtown Appomattox Sunday viewing the many exhibits and displays at the Railroad Festival.

When contacted Monday morning, Nadine said, "I look forward to my year as "Miss Appomattox". Serving as Miss Appomattox 1980 will surely be the most important event in my life."

First runner-up was Miss Tamara Dawn Nash, a 1979 graduate of Appomattox County High School who is presently a freshman at Longwood College in Farmville where she is studying for a BA degree in English and/or dramatic arts. Tamara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Nash of Appomattox.

Second runner-up was Miss Lisa Virginia Moore, a senior at Appomattox County High School. Lisa plans to attend VPI & SU to receive a degree in home economics.
